Project Same PAGE

(Law Enforcement Training)

The purpose of Project Same PAGE is to encourage police officers and court officials to work together in achieving more consistency in successfully prosecuting underage drinking violations. Successful prosecutions will help to educate the community and create a general deterrence to the use of alcohol by minors.

Same PAGE is not meant to infringe upon the individual discretion or experience of law enforcement personnel. This training has been developed with the intent of encouraging communication between officers and court officials to establish acceptable expectations when prosecuting these cases. If the expectations of the officer and the court are on the "same page," rulings will be more consistent and the community will recognize that underage drinking is being taken seriously.
